

TECHNOLOGIST INTERN | 6 months

Stuttgart, Germany

zigzag is an international design studio specialized in user experience. With user research, interaction and visual design as well as prototyping and development, we support each stage in innovative software development. Our goal is to create valuable and emotional experiences for users and we are working with Fortune 500 companies and start-ups across very diverse industries. Besides client works, we also love to create our own ideas and products like the photo app Posteroid or the Chrome extension Tablé.

zigzag is all about the people. We are continuously searching for talented designers and creative developers. Currently, we are looking for a Technologist Intern to join our multidisciplinary team in Stuttgart, Germany.
